

SPORTS BASEBALL POT STARTS BOILING AT NEW YORK TO-DAY

IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS OF VIRGINIA FACULTY

Adopts Resolution Preventing Football Squad From Playing Other Than on College Grounds.

NORTH CAROLINA EXCEPTED

Thanksgiving Day Fixture Will Be Staged in Richmond Until Tar-heels' Athletic Stadium Is Completed.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., December 6.—Football at Virginia is becoming much too popular, in the opinion of the faculty of that august institution, which has just adopted, by a unanimous vote, a resolution to the effect that future eleven games will not be allowed to play on any grounds except the home grounds of one of the contestants.

The one exception to the ruling is in the case of the game with the University of North Carolina, which, for historical reasons and obligations, will be permitted to continue in Richmond, Va., Thanksgiving Day, until North Carolina should have completed its new stadium, the funds for which have been donated by Isaac E. Emerson, of Baltimore.

Faculty action by the faculty means, for instance, that Virginia cannot continue to play the University of Georgia in Atlanta, the Carolina Indians in Norfolk, or Washington, Swarthmore in Lynchburg, or other schools in years past. The contests must be scheduled to take place on the home grounds of one of the contestants.

It is not that the faculty, perhaps, have a dislike for the football game, but a disappointment in the management of the University of Texas, Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi, who, after Virginia's clean gridiron game, the past season, have asked for games with Virginia next year. Texas wants to meet the Orange and Blue in New Orleans, and Auburn wishes to play the Virginians in Atlanta. Both challenges will be declined, of course, as the faculty action is final. The resolution passed faculty committees two years ago, and has now been renewed by the general faculty, with not a dissenting vote.

Follows Precedent. This step, after all, is in keeping with precedent all over the country. Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Georgia and Michigan have for years operated under a similar ruling. Harvard and Yale used to play at Springfield, and Princeton at New York. The annual games were played on the grounds of one or the other of the contestants.

These games, however, attract bigger crowds than turned out in Springfield and New York, and forced the erection of huge stadiums.

Years ago a similar ruling was adopted by the Western Conference, and the Missouri Valley Conference. The University of Kansas, for instance, was accustomed to play her big game with the University of Missouri in Kansas City, but the faculty decided to move the game to Lawrence, Mo., and half way between the two seats of learning. Faculty rulings changed the order of things, forcing the contest to be played on the grounds of one of the contestants.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the General Athletic Association of the university, another faculty ruling regarding athletics at the university came to the front. In considering the annual schedule for next spring it was found that the manager of the team had booked for one week more than two games—a direct violation of an agreement between the medical faculty and the varsity nine.

The third game in question—with the University of Vermont—was, therefore, stricken from the temporary schedule.

RECEPTION TENDERED THE ROANOKE FOOTBALL TEAM

Captain Spruhan Presented With Solid Gold Watch For An Token of Appreciation.

ROANOKE COLLEGE, SALEM, VA., December 6.—One of the most successful receptions ever given at Roanoke College was held in the college gymnasium and the commons, complimentary to the winning football team of the last season. Several hundred guests, including the faculty, were present to honor to what is probably the best eleven eleven Roanoke has ever produced. Spruhan, entered the team led by Coach Spruhan, wearing upon his left arm an "R" which was won by the team of the last season. The occasion for the reception was the occasion for the presentation of a solid gold watch to the captain of the team, which was presented by the faculty. The watch was presented by the faculty, and the occasion was the occasion for the presentation of a solid gold watch to the captain of the team, which was presented by the faculty.

ST. LOUIS FEDERALS MAY GRAB J. FRANKLIN BAKER

ST. LOUIS, December 6.—J. Franklin Baker, third baseman for the Philadelphia Athletics, probably will be the next player taken from the team which already has lost Eddie Plank and Charles Bender, according to Philip Ball, vice-president of the St. Louis Federals.

Baker, Ball said, asked officials of the St. Louis Federals if they could use him. The only hindrance, Ball said, is the ten-day clause in Baker's contract. "If we can find a way of taking Baker without a suit the deal will be consummated," he said.

Louis began the negotiations with the Federals, as in the case of Walter Johnson and Plank, which resulted in the sale of St. Louis would ask for Bender.

BRADLEY PRETENDS LEAGUE MEETING

Will Place Richmond's Claim for Better Baseball Before International Directors To-Morrow.

PLAN APPEALS TO ALL FANS

Supporters of National Pastime Elated at Prospect of Securing Oriole Franchise—Dunn Prefers to Locate in This City.

Secretary W. B. Bradley left last night for New York, where he will attend the meeting of the International National and American Leagues, and it is expected that when he returns to this city he will have the assurance that the Baltimore Orioles will be transferred here and play its scheduled next summer at the Richmond club.

Before leaving Bradley informed the writer that he had been in communication with the owners of Petersburg, Portsmouth, Newport News and Norfolk clubs in reference to their acceptance of his offer to purchase the city of Richmond franchise, and met with some unlooked-for opposition. This opposition, however, was expected, as Richmond is the one city that keeps the Virginia League on the map.

Bradley made an offer of $5,000 for a clear field, and further agreed to surrender the club, with the privilege of its being placed in any other Virginia city. This offer, carried with agreement the players under reservation. In other words, the offer amounts to about $20,000—the value of the franchise being $15,000, and $5,000 in cash.

As stated in The Times-Dispatch yesterday, Richmond has outgrown its infant baseball apparel, and the undecided fashion last season has they would not support a Class C league, and the opportunity is now at hand to secure a better grade of baseball in an organization whose cities rank in size and population with Richmond.

The International League officials meet to-night, and it is likely that the season will be carried over into tomorrow. Many important matters will be up for discussion, and the disposal of Jersey City and Baltimore franchises will be decided upon.

One Topic Yesterday. The prospect of better baseball for Richmond was the one topic of conversation among the lovers of the national game yesterday, and the opinion expressed was that the International League here, and Richmond will have one of the biggest seasons in its history.

The matter of better baseball was not the only feature that appealed to the public; advertising the city was also talked about by the supporters of the game, and it was the united opinion that Richmond would receive considerable attention in the league cities especially, as Jack Dunn would have entire charge, and a creditable organization would be the result.

Dunn, when reached over the long distance telephone last night, just before he left for New York, said "that he would rather locate in Richmond than in Syracuse, or any other city, and if the way is cleared for his team, he would put a club in this city that would be a credit, not only to the Commonwealth, but to the league, and one that would be at the top of the list throughout the entire season."
